Leading Sustainably: Transformation Through Vital Conversations

June 18, 2011 at Seattle University

Plenary Leaders

Bill Grace, drawing on his soon to be released book, Sharing the Rock: Leadership for the Common Good, will share his practical wisdom about how to achieve a just, peaceful, and sustainable world. Bill Koenig, OSR Program Director & Core Faculty, will join us to close the conference. Having just completed his PhD. with a dissertation titled Leadership for the Whole: In the Mythic Field of C. G. Jung's Unconscious Processes, Bill will bring fresh insights to what it means to lead sustainably.

A Day of Discovery

Registration of $99 includes continental breakfast, lunch, afternoon snack and wine and cheese reception. Registration of $115 also includes a copy of Sharing the Rock: Leadership for the Common Good, by Bill Grace.

14 diverse and engaging experiential workshops that will allow you to:

- Explore new methodologies for expanding your leadership capability.
- Practice new ways of leading transformation from wherever you stand.
- Learn how to intentionally design conversational spaces to produce extraordinary outcomes for you or your clients.
- Transform your awareness of - and foster new choices to lead sustainably.
